About the 18th Annual Self Care Conference – Understanding Self Care for Life

This year’s conference aims to debate, inspire and provide practical solutions on how to help people gain a better understanding of what it means to self care for a healthier life. Central to the event, which is the 18th Annual Self Care Conference, is the inspiring visionaries that have changed structures and strategies to improve people’s health in the community. No longer do we have a one-size-fits-all model and exemplary localities have found new targeted and meaningful self care approaches to support the local population to better look after their own health, and their family’s health.

This essential programme is tailored towards health providers and commissioners and those with responsibility for improving people’s health and aims to showcase self care systems that can be emulated in other localities. As well as helpful presentations and people’s first-hand experiences, there will be a chance to share knowledge with like-minded colleagues wishing to improve people’s health behaviour.
